Letter from Col. L. CLEMENS on the American Party.

The following letter from Hon. J. R. CLEMENS, late a Democratic U. S. Senator from the State of Alabama, is one of the ablest defences of American principles which we have ever read. It was written in response to a letter from an old political friend. We shall publish the balance of Col. C.'s letter in our next issue:

HUNTSVILLE, July 12, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I have not before had time to answer your letter in relation to the new order of Know Nothings, nor have I now at hand all the statistics which are necessary to a full elucidation of the subject. Very possibly in the opinions I am about to advance I shall find myself in antagonism to yourself and some of those old friends to whom you allude. At all events there is no impropriety in asking you to read carefully, not for the purpose of contradicting or finding fault, nor yet for the purpose of implicitly believing, but to reason, to consider, to reflect. If there is truth in what I write let no previous prejudice dim its brightness—if there is error let no personal partiality prevent its detection and exposure.

The violence which has heretofore characterized the discussion on this subject is unbecoming at all times, and particularly so upon a question involving so much about which men may reasonably differ. I know not why I should think less of any one for differing with me upon Know-Nothingism, then upon Democracy. He has the right to the maintenance of his opinions, and if he is honest no just man will denounce him.

It is proper for me to say that I never was in a Know-Nothing lodge but once—that I do not know single sign or pass-word, and could not to-day obtain admission to any council in the State, unless it was through the intervention of a friend; but I endorse their platform and propose to defend their principles. They are the principles of Washington and Jefferson, and what is of even more importance, they are the principles of the Constitution.

When one of the seven wise men of Greece visited the court of Pericles at Corinth, he was asked "what was the most perfect popular government?" He answered, "that in which the law has no superior." This answer, which contains a whole volume of truth and beauty in a single line, is the foundation of the Know-Nothing creed. They made it in the beginning the basis of their platform; not designed, for very probably the answer of the sage was not remembered, but reason, reflection and earnest patriotism, led them to the same results—

If the declaration of such a purpose by those who are called Know-Nothings is odious, unjust, infamous, and tyrannical, what will you do with the Constitution to be supreme? Obedience to its mandates is inculcated as the highest duty, and disobedience is certain to be followed by expulsion. Thus for I am sure the most violent will agree with me that there is nothing to condemn—that there is something to applaud.

The remaining portions of the platform may be disposed of satisfactorily, I think, if not as briefly as the first—Americans shall rule America—in other words—for I mean to deal in no equivocation—no evasion—to cover up nothing, dodge nothing, deny nothing—in other words, then, that native born Americans shall fill all offices of political importance under the government. I do not mean mere money offices, such as president of a bank, railroad or other corporation, but every office which gives to its holder an influence on the legislation of the country. These are the offices from which we are pledged to exclude foreigners and this is the position I am prepared to maintain. It is not denied that we have enough and more than enough competent Americans to fill every office we have to bestow, but it is urged that such a distinction is odious and unjust to our foreign population. How is it unjust? He has been deprived of nothing by his emigration here. In his own land he did not even have the right of suffrage. His property was never for an hour secure. His personal liberty was constantly in danger. He could not write or speak his sentiments with impunity. He was ground down with taxes. A press gang might at any moment tear him from the bosom of his family, or an oppressive landlord turn that family houseless upon the world—All this is changed. We have given him the right to vote. We have given him peace. We have given him security. We have given him independence, and now because we will not give the right to make the laws by which we are to be governed, he forgets in his arrogant ingratitude the hundred blessings we have showered upon him, and repays the safety of the Altar by malignant aspersions of the Minister to whom he owes his protection. His delusion to talk about the rights of the foreigners. PRIVILEGES is the word. We were not bound to extend to them the right of suffrage. We were not bound to give them protection, liberty, peace, independence. All these were voluntary gifts. It was philanthropy in its broadest sense. Nor is there one of the millions who flood the coun-

New York, Sept. 6.

The steamship Atlanta, from Liverpool, with dates from Saturday, the 25th of August, has just arrived. Her advices are a week later.

The Atlanta brings two hundred passengers.

She passed the Affen on the evening of the 25th off Scutari.

GENERAL NEWS.

The following is the latest by telegraph:

"LONDON, Saturday noon, Aug. 25.

"Queen Victoria will embark on Monday from Boulogne on her return. The Empress will accompany her to Boulogne."

Nothing further has occurred in the Crimea.

We have some interesting details of the bombardment of Sweaborg, and of the recent battle at Tchernaza. The papers say the Russian loss at Sweaborg was only forty killed, and one hundred and sixty wounded. The fortifications were destroyed.

Two British ships had fired upon Riga without any effect.

The squadron in the White Sea continued to destroy the stores of the enemy.

The British in the Sea of Azoff have blown up and sunk some Russian ships of war. In Berliamaski they had burned the suburbs of the town.

The British gun-boat Jasper had been wrecked on the Sea of Azoff, and the Russians had found her signal book.

Affairs before Sebastopol are quiet and unchanged. Affairs are also unchanged at Karz.

The Russian loss in the battle of Traktar Bridge, on the Tchernaza, was nearly 4,000 killed and wounded, and that of the Allies 1,000. The Russians were not pursued across the river, but held their former position thereon.

Various rumors are current as to a new peace project, but nothing authentic is known.

Queen Victoria was received most enthusiastically received in France.

Advice from Paris state that additional re-enforcements of 50,000 men are to be sent to the Crimea.

The Allied Squadron in the White Sea captured two Russian ships, one of them a steamer, and was preparing to quit that sea.

Berlin papers state that Austria has declared she will treat according to military law, every person found tampering with Austrian soldiers, with the view to induce them to join the Anglo Italian belligerent.

A Russian division between Kara and Enczroum having been re-enforced, had marched upon Keupri Kerri, drove the Turkish troops from their position, and finally encamped three leagues from Enczroum.

BERLIN, August 23.

A Russian agent has been sent to the chief cities of Europe, to raise a loan for the Russian Government.

DANTZIC, August 24.

All the mortar vessels are sent home. Admiral Seymour has received Admiral Bayne, off Cronstadt.

The most interesting news, is the details of the battles of Sweaborg and Tchernaza. The loss of life at Sweaborg was quite small, but advices thus far do not state how much of Sweaborg has been destroyed, nor how much remains.

Rumors are afloat of war negotiations, also that the accession of Spain to the Western Alliance was complete, and that of Denmark and Sweden all but ratified.

Austria is said to have submitted a new peace project, and will come out decided for the allies. Another talk is that the allies will permanently occupy some position in Turkey and re-construct the map of Italy accordingly.

By the Russian Admiral's account of the bombardment of Sweaborg, the allies appear to have done little damage besides burning the public stores. He says no damage whatever has been done to the fortifications, batteries or guns of the forts, and he closes his dispatch on the evening of the 12th, thus:

"The enemy remain at their old anchorage, and do not renew the attack."

The attack on Riga commenced at 4 o'clock on the morning of the 10th, by two English steamers—one a two-decker and one a frigate. The bombardment continued until 7 o'clock in the evening, doing no damage.

BATTLE OF TCHERNAZA.

The attack upon Tchernaza was commanded by Gortschakoff. The Russian force consisted of five divisions—six thousand cavalry and twenty batteries of artillery. Three Russian Generals were killed.

The French loss amounts to nearly 200 killed, and over 800 wounded.

The English General Reed, was killed. The Russians asked an armistice to bury their dead.

Pelissier says the whole number of Russians killed was 3,329.

A dispatch dated the 19th, says the artillery had opened fire upon Sebastopol, but the bombardment was not begun.—Four Russian steamers sunk in Berdiansk bay, had been blown up by the English, and the suburbs of the town were burned.

One British gun-boat went ashore during the attack, and was taken by the Russians, together with a complete code of the Allies' signals.

Gortschakoff's latest dispatch from Sebastopol on the 21st says:

"The fire of the allies has sensibly diminished, and does but little damage."

From England we have no political news.

SPAIN.

Senor Cosalente, the new Minister of Spain to the United States, had left Madrid.

BERLIN, N. J., Sept. 7.

Mr. Fisk, of Connecticut, one of the persons injured by the recent accident on the Camden and Amboy Railroad, died this morning. This is the twenty-third victim of the disaster. The remainder are recovering.

THE NEWS.

CYNTHIANA KY.

THURSDAY, - - - SEPTEMBER 13.

UThe last Statesman contains a lame attempt at a refutation of our statement that General Cass is a member of the abolition party, and, as is common among the conductors of the Sag Nicht press, shirks the main point at issue, and contents himself with charging the Know-Nothings with being abolitionists, and also charging all, at least a majority, of the State officers recently elected by the people of Kentucky with being abolitionists.

We have understood that it was remarked on the fair grounds, that "it was ridiculous that the hoop-pole county should take a premium on fine carriages." Hoop pole county, indeed! The individual who made the remark had better come down and take a look over Harrison county, and we promise him that if he finds a single "hoop-pole" in Harrison county, some honest man will swear it out on him.

Harrison county can boast of better farmers who raise better corn and wheat, horses, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep, and, last, though not least, better and prettier girls and boys than both Bourbon and Fayette combined! Our mechanics can do better work and make more money than any body's mechanics; and Harrison county contains more honest men than any other county of its size in Ky.

Hoop-pole county! Well bet the remark was made by some dandy who never has nor never will ride in a fine carriage, and who doesn't possess a clean shirt of his own.

New ADVERTISEMENTS.—Messrs. C. T. Delling & Co. have opened a new clothing store in the building adjoining the residence of L. Oxley, Esq. They advertise a large stock of fall and winter clothing. Give them a call.

Messrs. Shackelford & Howerton, of Paris, advertise their fall and winter stock of dry-goods. Persons going to Paris to purchase goods, would do well to give them a call.

Concert To-night.—The "Old Virginia Brothers" will give a concert at the Court-house to-night, Wednesday, Sept. 12th. They gave an entertainment last night, which was very well attended. The people of Cynthia have not enjoyed so rich a treat for a long time.

THAT HAT.—John L. Magee has presented us with an editorial hat. Magee has the fall fashions of hats, which are decidedly rich. He also keeps an extensive assortment of ladies and gent's' hats, boots, &c., together with a fine lot of useful and valuable books, stationery, &c.

UWe learn that the temperance picnic at Falmouth, on the 4th inst., was a pretty good little affair, although rain poured down in torrents all day. Col. R. H. Buckley made an able speech in favor of temperance.

County Court Day.

On Monday last, county court day, a great many people came to town, and everybody appeared to be in excellent spirits, and to have plenty of money.

A good amount of stock was sold, at fairly fair prices. John A. Kollar, Esq., auctioneer, sold several lots of mules, cattle, horses, &c., at prices which were considered pretty good. The usual amount of county business was transacted.

UThe yellow fever is still raging to a fearful extent at Norfolk, Portsmouth, and other places in Virginia. The people are dying by scores. The citizens of Baltimore, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and other places have raised thousands of dollars, and sent on to the relief of the sufferers. Besides this numerous physicians and nurses have gone to their relief.

Fruit CANS.—If you want to eat green fruit next winter, call at Martin's, and get some of his self-sealing cans. They are just the thing to keep fruit in its natural state, which is certainly a great luxury. Martin also keeps an excellent quality of chewing tobacco, as well as the finest quality of cigars. We have tried them.

ACCIDENT.—A breakman, whose name we could not learn, was knocked off the up freight train, as it was passing over the bridge, one mile below town, at noon yesterday. He was injured severely, but not fatally.

UThe truth is quite as bad as that we published. [Democrat.]

The truth which "is quite as bad as that" MISTAKE which the Democrat published, is what honest men call an US-TRUTH.

UIn the time of the old paths in this country all the States were slave States. [Yeoman.]

Lexington Fair—Cynthiana Ahead!

The annual Fair of the Kentucky Agricultural and Mechanical Association, commenced at Lexington, on Tuesday. We learn that the display of fine things was unusually brilliant. Our enterprising fellow-townsmen, H. F. Cromwell, both of which were manufactured at his extensive establishment in this place. The carriage was manufactured for one of our citizens, and it was not determined to exhibit this carriage until one day last week. Mr. C. is now manufacturing a premium carriage which will certainly eclipse anything of the kind ever made in Kentucky or the Union.

We have understood that it was remarked on the fair grounds, that "it was ridiculous that the hoop-pole county should take a premium on fine carriages." Hoop pole county, indeed! The individual who made the remark had better come down and take a look over Harrison county, and we promise him that if he finds a single "hoop-pole" in Harrison county, some honest man will swear it out on him.

AColt Show!

By invitation, we attended a colt show last Saturday, at the farm of Mr. David Dills, about five miles from Cynthiana. The colts shown were sired by Star Highlander, a beautiful stallion belonging to Mr. Dills; and the owner of the best horse colt was to receive a premium of a ten-dollar silver cup, and season to the owner of the best mare colt.

At 12 M., four of the very best of the horse colts were brought out, neatly caparisoned with fancy bridles, and exhibited. After a lapse of half an hour, during which time the fine points of the animals were discussed, the judges gave the blue ribbon and the silver cup to the colt belonging to Milton J. Raskin.

In a short time the mare colts were introduced to the crowd and judges. The colt belonging to Mr. Lewis Veach, received the award, to the satisfaction of all, of quite a number of the friends of the natural state. [Cynthiana News.]

A natural know-nothing in a live state we suppose you mean. [Statesman.]

We meant what we said, which is, a man who loves his own country better than he does Ireland, Germany, or the Pope of Rome.

—We regret to learn that Mrs. Lucy Chambers Zimmerman, the estimable lady of the editor of the Danville Tribune, died on the 2d inst.

—We were the recipient of a couple of excellent "julips" from the bar of that model hotel, the Varney House, on Monday last.

—P. P. A. Bissell, Esq., has been appointed Assistant Secretary of State.

—Arrison, the torpedo man, was put upon his second trial, at Cincinnati, on Monday last.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Tuesday, Sept. 11.

The steamship Africa arrived here this morning, with Liverpool dates of the 1st, being one week later.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

We have nothing from the seat of war except details of previous news.

Official dispatches show the battle of Tchernaya to have been an allied victory. The battle lasted three hours. The Russians gained the heights three times, but were successively driven back. The Russian loss was three thousand killed and two thousand wounded and taken prisoners. The allied loss was fifteen hundred. Another Russian attack was looked for near the cemetery.

The allies were preparing cavalry to cross the Tchernaya.

Omer Pasha definitely takes the command in Asia.

There is no intelligence from the Black Sea or Kars.

It was rumored in Paris that Queen Isabella, of Spain, was about to abdicate.

The Prussian Circular says that the Germanic policy is unchanged on the Eastern question.

Generals Simpson and Pellissier report that the Russian attack upon the Tchernaya was a deliberate attempt to raise the siege of Sebastopol. Documents were found on a dead Russian General, showing that they had taken the heights a further attack from four points was to have been made.

Simpson estimates the Russian force at 55,000 infantry, 6,000 cavalry, and 160 guns. The French had only 12,000 men and four batteries engaged, and the Sardinians 4,500 men and 21 guns, while the enemy had only one battery.

The Russians carried the bridge and crowned the heights three times, with great gallantry, but were repulsed, and the retreat was covered by the Russian batteries.

Pellissier calls the French loss 15 officers killed and 53 wounded; 172 men killed, 150 missing, and 1,160 wounded. The Sardinian loss was 230. The Russian loss was 3,000 killed, 5,000 wounded, and 1,800 made prisoners.

General Simpson says that the Redan and Malakoff were bombarded on the 17th with as much effect as was anticipated.

Gortschakoff telegraphs that on the night of the 27th affairs were unchanged, but that the fire of the allies was occasionally very heavy.

Private letters state that the Russian loss in Sweaborg was not more than fifty killed, and that the batteries were uninjured.

In reply to Austrian remonstrances, Great Britain is understood to have said that the question of nationalities should not be introduced for the present, and the foreign legion should be removed further from the Austrian frontier.

The Irish potato crop on the whole was satisfactory.

The French news is unimportant.

In Belgium a Commissioner had been appointed to raise the tariff, and the same subject was under consideration in Spain.

A Paris rumor states that the involuntary abdication of Isabella of Spain may be looked for. The export of breadstuffs is prohibited from the Ronau States.

Advices from India report a formidable insurrection among the Santals and other tribes in Bengal. The rebellion was from thirty thousand to fifty thousand, and strong, and was destroying everything European. There was no military in the neighborhood.

In China the insurgents were losing ground in the north.

Omar Pasha was to leave for Trebzon on the 21st ult., to take command in Asia.

Miss McDowell, in the last number of the 'Woman's Advocate,' utters the following bold but significant truth:

"As women are more affected by the prevalence of immorality than men, it is really strange that they do not drown down those vices which are so frequently fatal to their own tranquility. Many a female who would not refuse to dine with a profligate, would think herself foully insulted were she invited to take tea with a courtesan; but the only difference between the two is, one wears pantaloons and the other pantaloons—the moral is the same."

A plain truth, well spoken. It is a lamentable fact that too many respectable ladies admit to their acquaintance men who are known to be licentious. "Pity 'tis 'tis true."

"We are all of us deceived at times, and those who do not know as much, are the most deceived."

"On the 28th ult, 40 head of imported cattle arrived at Philadelphia, for Kentucky and New York farmers.
